RADSc Mission Statement

A Community Centre that is:

- * Responsive to Community Need
 - * Accessible to All
 - * Dynamic in our Approaches
 - * Supportive to all in the Community

Covid-19 continues to place many pressures on people's lives. Certainly the fatigue of maintaining the new norm is being felt by many.

Our main focus this past year has been to ensure we continue to provide a safe workplace and community venues, in which our groups, services and activities can be offered from.

We feel our response to the pandemic has been effective. This has been demonstrated through:

- Services continuing to be offered through the use of PPE and safe work practices
- Groups continue to meet with minimal disruptions
- No staff shortages – due to a well established volunteer base

We continue to provide free masks to those who require a surgical mask. The masks have been provided by the Queensland Government which we are thankful for.

2021- 2022 RADSc
Programs, Groups
Support Services

Family & Individual Support through our Emergency Relief (ER) program

Supports offered include, but not limited to:

- Hampers consisting of long life food, personal hygiene and household cleaning products. Fresh vegetables and fruit when available.
- Drakes vouchers
- Filling of medical scripts at the local pharmacy
- Fuel (under special circumstances)
- Telstra vouchers
- Clothing and linen through the local goodwill shop
- Referrals to housing and aged care support services, domestic violence and mental health organisations etc
- Assistance with applying for hardship superannuation payment
- Advocacy in negotiating rent arrears and or utility payments

Community Partnerships

We did receive an increase in ER funding from the State Government which we were appreciative of. The total amount of $3524.40 was used to purchase Drakes vouchers.

However, it is through our continued community partnerships that we are able to provide more flexible and meaningful responses in meeting individual client needs who are accessing our ER program.

Our two largest donors are:

The Rosewood Uniting Church Goodwill Shop

Who provide support through donating clothes and linen to clients that we refer,

as well as donating $\frac{1}{4}$ of their profits from the sales at the Goodwill shop to our ER program.

The Rosewood Lions Club

through their second hand clothing store

provide $5000 that is used as a no interest loan set up. This arrangement has only been in place for two years but has already proven invaluable.

Other Groups that we are also greatly appreciative of for their ongoing support of our ER program are:

- Rosewood Anglican Church

Members of the Church continue to hold a stand on the fifth Saturday of each month at Drakes, encouraging members of the public to donate food items for our ER cupboard. The response is always amazing.

- Rosewood Lutheran & Baptist Churches

Donations are received on a regular basis for our ER Cupboard

- St Brigid's Catholic Church

Pat Lenihan drops off hamper items to the Community Centre on a weekly basis from members of their congregation.

- Mt Walker Church of Christ

Throughout the year members of the church will drop food items off to our Centre. The church also hold an Annual Christmas Carols with the proceeds donated to our hampers.

- Rosewood Seventh - Day Adventist Church

Ladies personal sanitary items are donated for our ER cupboard as well as providing us with little personal care packs that we forward onto the Rosewood High School.

An extra special thanks to Rosewood locals John & Judy H for their weekly hamper donation

Merry Christmas!

99 HAMPERS FOR 2021

The Community Cheer Hampers supported 88 children, 30 teenagers, 73 ladies and 55 men, totalling 246 individuals.

All children, teenagers and $\frac{3}{4}$ of the adults received a wrapped gift.

Hampers were disbursed to those nominated living in Rosewood and in the surrounding areas including Grandchester, Mt Walker, Mt Marrow, Walloon, Calvert and Amberley.

The community support received in relation to the donations was simply amazing.

The wrapping of the gifts happened again at the Girl Guides Hut on the Saturday prior to the packing of the hampers by our wonderful Annual Community Wrapping Volunteers.

Thank you to Andree M for helping with the gift shopping. It took 4 trolleys!

The Rosewood History Group took a tour of the Rosewood Library.

History buffs tour the new library

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

COMMUNITY members from the Rosewood History Group recently visited the Rosewood Library to take part in a tour and information session.

Group Convenor David Pahlke said they were invited to the library to take part in a virtual reality session, tours of the history room and an information seminar all about the services that the library has to offer.

"It was a fantastic morning that was full of information that some members had not had access too, prior to this tour," David said.

"We were all grateful to the library staff for taking the time to explain the services and were especially grateful for the special tour of the history room.

"The history room is of special interest to our members because of the significant connection the information in this room has to the families of the local area."

The group was also invited to join a session on how to look into internet site Trove and various other history sites.

"We would describe the library as an extremely important asset to the community that provides families with everything they would ever need for research and social purposes," he said.

Pointing out our important history

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

THE rich history of Rosewood was brought to life during a tour that took place last week hosted by the Convenor of the Rosewood History and Memories Group, David Pahlke.

A brief background history of why David has such a great interest and love for Rosewood started the tour for over 20 people who had travelled from Brisbane to be involved in the day.

David said it is very important to him to keep the town's history alive.

"Our guests travelled from Brisbane and I welcomed them over coffee, tea and brunch before as a group we set off to enjoy many great stories," he said.

"There are many very early origins here in Rosewood including the establishment of the Rosewood Rail Station, the rich history throughout the Rosewood Scrub, the settlement in the area and the history of the buildings, churches and schools.

"Just in the main street alone, there is the old court house which is now the Bremer Valley Realty, the former Jailhouse which is on display in the Cobb and Co Park and the original Royal Bank of Queensland utilised now by the Rosewood Country Women's Association, just to name a few.

Rosewood Choir – fun and satisfaction in performance

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

ROSEWOOD Choir volunteers Ellie Pickersgill and Ginny Roberts are encouraging community members to come forward to find their passion in music.

The group which meets at the Rosewood Girl Guides Hall each Monday evening is run by choir leader Ellie Pickersgill.

"Music is great for the mind, body and soul and when families sing together it creates a beautiful sound," she said.

"Singing in a choir can be liberating, especially for people who find their voice for the first time or for people who once sang years ago and didn't think they could sing anymore.

"You don't have to know how to read music or know how to sing to come along and take part, it is simply just about experiencing the empowerment in yourself while knowing that you are a part of an amazing sound."

Ellie said the choir is for all ages.

"We will welcome anyone who wants to come along and give it a go."

formance experience said she loves sharing and teaching the power of singing and the voice.

Ginny Roberts is the guitarist with the choir.

Ginny has trained as a classical guitarist and a guitarist and has been a technician for sound mixing and recording. She has also worked backstage as a technician for large rock concerts.

She has played on stage in rock bands and in duets.

"I love the choir because it has brought me back to my first love in life which is music."

Martial arts instructor retires

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

JEAN Gosling has decided to take a step back to spend time exploring her own interests and has retired as instructor of Tai Chi at the Rosewood Community Centre.

Keeping her body fit and active through her passion for Tai Chi is Jean's passion as she has been teaching its many benefits for health and well-being for over 15 years.

Jean says that Tai Chi is an effective exercise to improve health and wellbeing, because it exercises the entire body and the mind all at the same time.

"I really enjoy teaching this art while helping people overcome obstacles through learning this amazing art form," she said.

"It has been a pleasure to teach so many people throughout the years. I have met and made many great friendships that I will treasure forever.

"Now that I am stepping down from my role at the Community Centre, I will be focusing on learning additional Tai Chi skills whilst enjoying time for me and the things that I like to do."

Centre Co-ordinator Donna Hanlon was among the many people who gathered to farewell Jean.

"Volunteers like Jean are priceless.

Confusion over mandatory proof of Covid-19 vaccination

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

SOME less than tech-savvy members of the community are feeling left behind on how to upload their Covid-19 vaccination records.

Karen is a Rosewood resident who said she felt "totally lost" when it came to creating a MyGov account and linking it to the Check in Queensland app on her phone.

"I have owned a mobile phone now for almost five years and during this time I have learnt how to use the basics, access google and how to take photos," she said.

"What I find challenging is the uploading, downloading and the correct way to use and access certain applications."

Karen is not the only one who is finding this new rule challenging, as according to the Rosewood Community Centre manager, Donna Hanlon, the centre has received more than 50 requests for help.

"Each year our volunteers work around the clock to help and assist where needed, though this year we have just been so busy with assisting families with the new Covid-19 requirements.

"You are not alone and we are here to help in any way we can."

Rosewood Men's Workshop

Program Co-ordinator Trevor H

The Workshop provides a meeting place, for men to work together on community wood and metal work projects. The men meet on Friday mornings at the Workshop located behind the Community Centre. The Friday sessions have demonstrated that the program is very effective in reducing the feeling of social isolation for men through connecting with others.

- The Men's Workshop program is in alliance with the Australian Men's Shed Association

- Local men are encouraged to drop in on any Friday morning to have a cuppa and a chat with the Workshop members at the shed. Where they can have a look around and check out the current projects being worked on.
- The Workshop members continue to offer mentoring opportunities focusing on sharing skills with others who would like to learn or increase their skills in wood work or metal work.
- There is also a Women's program being offered on a Tuesday for any women that would like to learn new skills in wood work or to receive assistance to repair small items of furniture.

ROSEWOOD STATE SCHOOL GIFTED A 1970S HOTDOG STAND

Rosewood State School gifted a 1970s hotdog stand

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

A 1970's Hotdog stand was brought back to life by the Rosewood Men's Workshop after it was donated to them in 2018.

The men spent numerous hours refurbishing the stand, which included replacing the wheels, welding the roof and chimney, replacing gadgets that were worn and putting in some muscle to give it a good shine and polish.

After showcasing the stand and serving hotdogs on the main street of Rosewood, the men decided to donate it to another community group who may benefit from it.

Rosewood State School Parents and Citizens Secretary, Lisa Fairbridge said after hearing this she approached Rosewood Community Centre Manager Donna Hanlon about the stand.

"I suggested that Rosewood Primary School may be interested in receiving the stand as I thought it would make a great addition to the school's fundraising activities," she said.

"Our school is always open to different ways of fundraising on sports days, gala days and discos where we set up food stalls for the school community to purchase from."

Lisa approached the school's Deputy Principal Andrew Carter who also agreed with her that it would be a wonderful addition, the men then handed on the stand to the school to see it utilised to its full potential.

Principal Georgia O'Shea said she was thrilled and the stand would hopefully be used at the Gala Day that is coming up towards the end of the term.

A comfy renovation in a community partnership

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

AN often used outdoor seat in the grounds at Cabanda in Rosewood has been restored through a community partnership between Rosewood's Lions Club and Men's Workshop.

Tanya Johnson regularly visits the grounds with her dog Maggie, and on one such visit she noticed that a garden seat was in need of some work.

Knowing that Lions members often assist with community projects she contacted the Lions Board and asked if there was some way of restoring the chair.

Tanya said that she took a photo of the chair and sent it to the members on the board to ask if they would restore it.

"The answer to my request was yes, and from there Rosewood Lions member and Rosewood Men's Workshop Volunteer and Program Co-ordinator Trevor Halter suggested contacting the Rosewood Men's Workshop to take on the restoration side while the Lions funded the project," she said.

"It was great to see the Lions and the Men's Workshop work together to bring this popular chair back to life, because it is used by residents and visitors to Cabanda often to take a break and to enjoy the scenery."

A combination of skill and dedication by the members of the Men's Workshop was used to ensure that the chair was restored in the best way possible, to keep its original charm and to make it safe and presentable.

Trevor Halter said the restoration was an enjoyable one with everyone from the workshop eager to assist.

"Roughly the cost of the project came to $400 which included sandblasting, powder-coating, the restoration of the wood, painting and some new materials," he said.

"It is like a whole new chair, safe, sturdy and definitely a feature in the grounds."

Free advice and plants to purchase at Native Plant sale

THE Rosewood Native Plant Sale and Environmental Day will be staged once again with rare species of native plants available for purchase.

The sale is hosted by the Ipswich branch of Native Plants Queensland and members will be available to share their expertise and knowledge regarding buying, planting and growing a whole variety of native plants to experience the best result possible in your backyard.

The organisation concentrates on supporting the genetic diversity of native plants by growing them from seed and the sale will offer a wide range of ground covers, shrubs, revegetation and drought hardy plants.

Native plant grower Heather Knowles said native varieties attract wildlife, bees and other animal species to the garden complementing the beautiful flora that the species offers.

"The plant sale is free for all families to attend and we will be complying with Covid safe measures," she said.

"We do encourage everyone to bring along their own bags or boxes as well as an open mind as there will be many growers and plant lovers there who will be sharing their advice on the day.

"Amongst the specialised species, bushfood, flowering shrubs, rare and threatened species will be available and the prices start from as little as $2."

Stalls and displays will be open for people of all ages to interact and learn something new to take back to their garden."

Representatives from the Ipswich Koala Protection Society, Bat Rescue, Bush Food Association, Ipswich City Council Conservation, Birds Queensland, Bob the Bee man, Botanical Artists Society of Queensland will be there and food will be on sale from the volunteers at the Rosewood Community Centre.

"This will be the perfect opportunity for anyone wanting to make a real difference in the local environment by introducing a wide range of flora to their garden," Heather said.

"Attracting host plants, while simultaneously growing a secure native food, medicine and utility plant source for your own use and that of the like-minded wider community."

Creative arts raise funds for the Uniting Church

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

THE Rosewood Community Centre held a Creative Art and Craft Expo at the Uniting Church Hall and raised $723 for the Uniting Church community.

Centre Manager Donna Hanlon said the day was a huge success with more than 90 people coming through the door to support the church.

"The Community Centre sponsored the event and catered for all who attended on the day," she said.

There were 14 stallholders who all brought their own creative flair to their designs that were displayed and enjoyed by all.

"It was a great day, with so many local families who came through the door to support the event," she said.

"All of the stall holders had some amazing displays with so many beautiful items to share and this is something we will certainly consider doing again next year."

Uniting Church volunteer Joyce Rieck acknowledged the support and thanked ... "Donna and the wonderful volunteers, what a great team we make and I really would like to share many thanks to all involved".

Rosewood Lions give back to community

The Rosewood Lions presented donations to groups and organisations.

by ELIZABETH KINGTON

THE Rosewood Lions Club presented more than $32,000 to community groups and organisations to show their support during the 2020 – 2022 financial year.

A presentation was held at the Lions shed where past President Ken Koon was joined by Secretary Christine Forrest in presenting each group with a cheque.

More than $11,000 was donated to Rosewood groups such as the men's workshop, the community centre, Cabanda Care, the Scout group, the RSL, the kindergarten, the Little Athletics group, Junior Rugby League, the swimming club, women's group, CWA, Rosewood School of Dance and the United Soccer club.

Some of the organisations outside of Rosewood which also received a cheque were the Ipswich Hospice, the Ipswich Hospital Foundation, the Ipswich Prostate Cancer Support Group, Camp Quality, the Royal Flying Doctors Service and Lions International Camp Duckadang.

The local Lions also donated to the Lions' local and overseas disaster funds, and local groups which may have needed help for equipment and events.

Each recipient showed their appreciation for the Lions' support to their individual group.

Debbie Brown from the Rosewood and District Community Kindergarten said the Lions have supported the kindergarten as well as many other local community groups for many years.

"I would like to thank the Lions for their generous donation to our kindy.

"They are hardworking individuals who give so much of their time to the community and to helping others, we all thank you."
